FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. GOLD WEAK. IMPROVEMENT IN STOCKS. MONEY STILL EASY. GOVERNMENT BONDS STEADY. Flour and wheat firmly maintain the advance of Saturday and yesterday, and a further rise is anticipated. Cotton is not so strong, and the market is lined to recede. Gold has been inactive during the entire day, and a slight reduction in the premium had to be submitted to. The bulk of the business was done at 113% a 113%. MONEY MARKET. No stringency has been perceptible for some days, notwithstanding large demands are coming in from the West for funds to keep grain transactions easy. Money was obtainable to-day at the rate of interest that has ruled for a week past—viz., six and geven per cent. The share market. Immediately after the opening this morning the bears became convinced that they could not control sales as they had done yesterday, when it geemed that stocks almost went begging for purchasers. After the first sales the market lifted and the entire list attained an upward look. The market was unusually active, and all the shares that were offered found ready purchasers. The Book Concern "Frauds" Up Again-Minority Reports Presented-Another Refusal to Appoint a Special Committee-Oil Speculators in the Book Concern.

Bishop Simpson presided over the Conference yesterday, and Rev. Mr. Van Cleve conducted the devotional exercises. The rules of order were then suspended, to allow the minority of the Book Committee's report to be read; with it was read also the report of Mr. Gunn, the accountant appointed some time ago by Dr. Cariton. This report shows a looseness and irregularity in the system of book-keeping carried out in the Book Concern. Frequent erasures and alterations occur without explanation.

The books are balanced but once a year, and in some particulars, he says, they have not been balanced for twenty years, and it is simply im-possible to arrive at a just result. He is, there-fore, unable to say whether there have been any fraudulent purchases of material or mis-appropriation of the funds of the Concern to personal interests. He therefore arrives at no conclu sion of fraud, but great irregularities do exist. This gentleman takes Mr. Kilbreth to account and analyzes his report with a degree of recklessness that should make the latter tremble for his chance of heaven.

DR. LANAHAN'S REPORT. As soon as this report was read Dr. LANAHAN moved to lay the papers on the table until his own report should be read. This was done. The Doctor's report asserts that four years ago Dr. Cariton opposed the re-election of his then associate, Dr. Porter, on the ground that young Porter had a monopoly of the purchase of paper, to the damage of the Concern, and yet this person was allowed to enjoy this monopoly until Dr. Lanahan discovered the fraud and stopped it. He also questioned Goodenough in regard to the purchase of paper, and this person contradicted himself repeatedly, and which resulted in allowing him to resign rather than be discharged. Hoffman, the bindery superintendent, he found averaged only from two to three hours a day in the bindery, and upon a nominal salary of $2,000 lived in a style of affluence. After examination of Hoffman's administration he was got rid of only after threats that if he did not go Dr.

ary of $2,000 lived in a siyle of affluence. After examination of Heffman's administration he was got rid of only after threats that if he did not go Dr. Lannhan would.

The suit of Goodenough vs. Lannhan for slander—damages $20,000—the latter thinks had its origin among those whose frands and corruption he was exposing, and in every possible way he was annoyed and insulted. The Doctor sums up his charges in twenty "statements," giving circumstantial or legal proof to sustain each. Nos. I, 2 and 3 relate to the purchase of paper for the Concern by J. F. Porter and his unfitness for the business. No. 4 refers to Goodenough's plea for Porter that he (Goodenough) must oe "refleved of the care that was pressing upon him."

OIL COMPANIES IN THE BOOK CONCERN.

This "care," Dr. Lannhan shows, were matters outside of his business in the Concern. He was secretary and treasurer of the "Crown Petroleum Company of New York and Canada"—capital stock $150,000. T. Carlton, President, and H. R. Hoffman, Vice President, and other employés of the Concern were stockholiers. The Ridgewood Petroleum Company, of Pennsylvania, capital stock $500,000, with Goodenough, Hoffman, Grant and Dr. Carlton as corporators. Also the Crescent Petroleum Company, of New York and Canada", apital stock $1,200,000, of which Goodenough was chairman of the working committee, and in the service of which he travelled abroad to Canada and other places. No. a shows that in a single issue of the several church papers published here there was a saving of $1,906 32 after Porter's monopoly was broken up and the paper bought directly by the assistant agent. No. 6 charges that in the item of leather alone in the binding department the Concern has been defrauded of not less than $25,000 (1,700 dozen skins) during the last twenty months of Hoffman's administration. No. 7 relates to 141 dozen of sheepskins sent away from the Concern to for persons who were not in the employ of the house. His dishonesty is also shown by the amount of material fornished therefor. Thu stock for that year was only $80,007 24. A similar addition is made for 1855, whereas the total amount of sheet stock was only $80,027 36. The same amount is added for 1858 and 1859. Thus in three years twelve per cent is added no $57,548 96 worth of sheet stock more than the Concern possessed or than was shown by the inventories. In the bindery store account book of 1857 to 1852, inclusive, the footings of one year are carried into the footings of the succeeding year, in numerous instances, and thus counted twice. In 1858, the work turned out was $17,561 95; yet this year's work is entered in the ledger of the office, $185,421 59, a difference of $7,733 33. The inventory of the bindery for 1844 shows the amount of $13,478 19, whereas the entiry in the ledger is $161,641 08, upon which is based a profit of $12,085 29, when it should, correctly made, show a loss of $4,234 50. Similar arbitrary figures are traced for a serfes of years up to 1863 and the losses shown in proof of PALSE ENTRIES AND FRAUDULENT MISMANAGEMENT, as charged in the Concern. The discrepancy in the cash balances of the Concern. The discrepancy in the cash balances of the Concern. The discrepancy in the cash balances of the Concern and the books of the Shoe and Leather Bank, in which the Concern held its deposits from 1834 to 1858, is cited as proof of fraud. And detailed statements of these balances and of the losses and og amis in cach year from 1861 to 1898, inclusive, are given in proof of false and the top of the purpose of showing a gase was the contrel for the purpose of showing a gase was the contrel for the purpose of showing a gase was the contrel for the purpose of showing a gase was the contrel for the purpose of showing a gase was the contrel for the purpose of showing a gase was the port with contrel to a special committee. In the purpose of the purpos

Judge REYNOLDS, of Brooklyn, while admiring the talent of the standing committee, was opposed to referring these papers to them because they would of necessity refer the whole matter to a sub-committee and the Conference would not know who they were. There are at least eight men on the committee who have aiready prejudged this case, whereas the committee should be constituted of unbiassed men. If Mr. Kilbreth's renort is to be accepted as complete and correct then the matter may be referred to the standing committee. But if not we shall be no nearer the end of this trouble than we are now. If he stood there as the friend or as the counsel of Dr. Lanahan, as had been charged, he would ask nothing more nor better for his defence than those reports which had been read. This investigation must be instant and constant to satisfy the Church. They had better elect their bishops, appoint their officers and go home unless this question is settled. They can't take any of the reports and pass a timely vendet save only in one direction.

Dr. CLARK, of Eric, moved to report to a committee of one from each Annual Conference.

Ann't pind an usual conference.

Judge Lawrence thought there was evidence of frand and evidence against it in the reports read. That a committee is needed can't be doubted; that the committee should not be appointed by the bishops is evident, because they have expressed an opinion on some parts of these proceedings, nor should the case be referred to the standing committee. He therefore moved that the several Annual Conference delegations meet and report their selection of one from each delegation to be appointed by the General Conference on this committee.

A motion to adjourn at this point was voted down. The previous question was called for, but not ordered. Mr. Swarr wanted a division of the house, so that ministers and laymen might vote separately, but this was denied, and, after a series of parlimentary skirmishes of this sort, a motion to adjourn was carried by a vote of 201 to 190. Today the fraternal delegates will be introduced to the Gonference, and the Book Concern contestants will have a truce of a day.
